NOTE

The Corcoran Gallery of Art is a private corporation, operated for the benefit of the public. It derives no financial support from the Federal Government, nor does it receive any appropriation from the Government of the District of Columbia. All expenses of operation, maintenance and activities are defrayed from income from its endowment, to which many public-spirited citizens, during the past decades, have contributed. A suggested form of gift for use by those who are interested in helping to meet the increasing needs of the Gallery is found on the inside back cover. Such gifts are deductible from Federal income taxes.

JURY OF SELECTION AND AWARD

JOSEPH T. FRASER, JR., Secretary of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Chairman.

THOMAS C. COLT, JR., Director, The Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

MACGILL JAMES, Assistant Director, The National Gallery of Art.

PRIZE AWARDS

For Sculpture

HEINZ WARNEKE Protrectress(No. 104)

For Painting

PAUL ARLT Autumn, Connecticut Avenue.....(No. 68)

SHEILA COWAN The Pearl Necklace.....(No. 15)

RICHARD LAHEY Night Watchman.....(No. 41)

NOTE

The Jury was unable to select one painting which in its opinion was the "best." Instead, it suggested, and the Gallery agreed, that the three most outstanding paintings should share the prize award equally. The Jury also recommended five Honorable Mentions for paintings.

The prize awards are $100 for the best sculpture and $50 each for the three paintings.

SALES

The Gallery wishes to call attention to the fact that many of the works of art in the exhibition are for sale. The prices are listed opposite each entry whenever this information has been furnished by the artist. A sales representative, employed by the Gallery, will be present to furnish information and assist purchasers. The Gallery charges no commission or fee on sales resulting from the exhibition.

Checks in payment for works purchased should be drawn to the order of the individual artist and left with the sales representative. Works sold may not be removed until after the close of the exhibition.

FOREWORD

The Corcoran Gallery of Art acknowledges its deep appreciation of the enthusiastic response of the artists of the area to this new exhibition. The extent of their cooperation is convincingly demonstrated by the fact that approximately eight hundred works were offered.

Grateful thanks are also due to our invited Jury, who conscientiously examined every entry. Of the 120 objects finally selected by them, 63 are paintings in either oil or tempera; 32 water colors; 10 sculpture; 7 prints and 8 drawings.

The current exhibition is organized on a basis unlike that of any similar show previously held here. Nevertheless, it really is a continuation of the Corcoran Gallery of Arts' long-standing policy of encouraging the artists of our own community. The rising generation of artists has, through it, a new chance for a public hearing, and it is hoped that thereby fresh talents may be encouraged. That the opportunity has been welcomed is shown by the fact that the list of exhibiting artists contains a considerable number of names which are not familiar. The Gallery is grateful for the opportunity of showing their work, as well as that of artists of well-established reputation.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

The officers of the Gallery will be glad to consult and advise with friends of the institution who contemplate making gifts or bequests of objects of art or of money for the support and extension of its work. All such gifts and bequests are tax-exempt to the extent prescribed under federal and state laws pertaining to income and state taxes. An endowment by gift or bequest becomes a permanent memorial.

FORM WHICH MAY BE USED FOR GIFTS OR BEQUESTS OF SECURITIES, MONEY, WORKS OF ART OR REAL ESTATE:

I hereby give and devise to The Corcoran Gallery of Art, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia to be by said Gallery held or applied, in the discretion of the Trustees, to the promotion of the purposes of its incorporation.
